ALISON DOEHRING, ZIPASSIST

Working with ZipAssist, the Campus Cupboard, a team of UA faculty and staff, and a variety of community partners, this [Un]class will collectively explore, vision, and create an outdoor learning lab and mental health oasis that helps alleviate food insecurity on our campus.

Over the course of three weeks, we will transform campus space into a community garden. Come prepared to be creative and get your hands dirty! No experience necessary! This course satisfies the requirements of the Williams Honors College as a Natural Science Colloquium.

For more information reach out to Ali Doehring, Director of ZipAssist aer15@uakron.edu or Dr. Christin Seher, Co-Director of EX[L] cld37@uakron.edu.
